Introduction

Hazrat-e Masoumeh University, the first women's university, established after the Islamic Revolution in Iran in 2008, was founded in response to the concerns of families regarding the right of female applicants in higher education to choose their own educational conditions. With the recommendation and emphasis of the sources of emulation (Maraj-i Taqlid), the university was established in the holy city of Qom.

The university has developed its various services and plans based on top-level documents, particularly the document on the Islamicization of universities, as well as the essential needs of the province and the country. It is committed to advancing based on the high Islamic and human values, as well as the fundamental policies of the sacred system of the Islamic Republic of Iran.

Objectives

- ◆ To provide educational and research services that are needed by women in the society and educate committed and efficient forces for the society and future management of the country, especially in the field of women.
- ◆ To address ethical issues and provide religious education to students and achieve both knowledge and ethics.
- ◆ To provide opportunities for women in the country to continue their studies in universities specifically designed for them to improve their academic and skill levels.
- ◆ To develop and deepen the family system through short and long-term training courses.
- ◆ To participate in facilitating and accelerating the process of developing higher education in the country and paying attention to the needs of the province and the country.
- ◆ To create a reference for identifying women's issues in the country and assist in their resolution through research and strategic plans.
- ◆ To expand higher education into people's homes through the establishment of virtual education, especially for women who do not have the opportunity to attend universities.
- ◆ To establish permanent centers for applied research suitable for women's conditions.
- ◆ To create study opportunities and also exchange professors and students through communication with other universities around the world and promote scientific diplomacy.

Achievements

- ◆ The top university in the country in terms of the number of ISC articles published by faculty members, despite being less than 20 years old.
- ◆ Selection of the national exemplary professor in the humanities from among the university's faculty members for three consecutive years.

Center for Counseling

The aim of the Center for Counseling is to improve the mental and physical health, as well as the skills and talents, of both university students and personnel. Their team of experts offers counseling services both in-person and through electronic means, available all week long at the university counseling center. Drawing on the experience and expertise of its seasoned counselors, this department offers the following services:

1. Individual Counseling: This includes help with issues such as depression, anxiety, anger management, relationship problems, academic issues, self-confidence and self-esteem, and more.

2. Marriage Counseling: This type of counseling is available for individuals seeking help before marriage, during marriage, and after marriage.

3. Family Counseling: This type of counseling focuses on improving family member compatibility, including parents, siblings, and other family members. Additionally, this center is available on the U-Tabib platform at talk.utabib.ir and provides non-face-to-face counseling services.

Over several periods, the University Counseling Center has earned the distinction of being the top counseling center among universities with a population of under two thousands in the country.
